Jean Ann Wright was editor of Quilt Magazine for twenty years. She is now a best-selling author and has designed several best-selling Creative Grids rulers. Her quilts have appeared in many magazines and she has been a featured guest on The Quilt Show.

The pages are loose and the cardboard box they come in is intended as the frame to hold the pages. All of that is well and good, except that then HOW the item is shipped becomes important. My package was damaged. I have it taped together to get through the year. For those who are buying primarily the quilt designs, I encourage you to go ahead and buy it. So far, it appears that there are a few to several days that are devoted to one pattern, with the first day including the material requirements and subsequent days providing the block patterns. For those hoping for a sturdy calendar, buy something else.

pages thin & tear easily. Stand tore on set-up. Too many appliques & extraordinarily simple blocks. Not what I had hoped.

Sent as a gift. My friend had already had one of these in another year and she said the day-to-day patterns are wonderful so I call Quilt Block and Patter-a-Day 2016 a hit.

I love it! I was worried about being overwhelmed with too many new projects too fast but it turned out better than I thought. Rather than having an entirely new quilt pattern every day, it is broken down so that each day you are introduced to a single block or part of a whole quilt. The instructions are clear and the illustrations are beautiful very disappointed... The calendar came with the box crushed and broken... Now the calendar wll not stand up for display.

I order this item every year and keep on my computer desk to enjoy the colorful patterns as they change every day. I have also found many of the patterns on the reverse to be useful for small projects. They can also be enlarged.

Smaller than 2009 by a third, lesser material for the box, strongly leans to appliqué, not my favorite.

This was Just what I wanted. It's has so many cute and cleaver ideas. Will be ordering the 2017 calender too.
