Burning Justice (Max Harrison Book 4)

Synopsis

A homeless teenager is murdered and all the evidence leads to criminal defense attorney Max Harrison. In the fourth story of this bestselling series, Max Harrison is faced with his toughest trial yet. By the time that Max is tipped off, there is less than twenty-four hours before he is arrested for the murder of a homeless boy. He is forced to search for the real killer but the deeper he digs, the more dangerous the case becomes. As time runs out, Max must take action to bring the killer to justice or die trying. This legal mystery will take you for an adventure through the streets of New York and leave you with twists and turns that you didn't see coming.

Customer Reviews

Loved the authors style but hated o have to buy another book to have resultsOf the trial..

Considering the length of this book it was okay. It was well written and easy to follow. There just wasn't enough of it.

Come back soon

It was OK.

Enjoyed this book immensely, will be watching for and buying more by Kenneth Eade

I have bought MANY good books for this low price. I did not look to see how many pages this was and I finished it in under an hour! Beware of rip offs like this! Besides being a short story and not a full length novel, it was so predictable that it was sad. I could have written a book like this in one day. Terrible and not worth the money!

I wondered how this was going to play out -- he has 24 hours(!) to prove his innocence. VERY short book for this story to be nurtured and developed -- so it wasn't. It could have been so much more, but the author seemed in a hurry to get to the punchline. Silly and disappointing for a serious reader. Phooey!

This is one of the silliest books I've read in a long time. The plot is absurd and the wooden caricatures are so hopelessly ineptly done that they tend to be howlingly funny. Mr. Graham also has serious trouble with the English language. The following exchange gives you an idea. "Then I isn't telling you nothing." "The English language is not this boy's strong point." "Ok Henry. Whatever you say is between you and I."
